SHOCKING FLYING TRAGEDIES.

MISSING PLANE FOUND IN DESERT WASTES.

ITALIAN AIR MAIL CRASH OFF TURKISH COAST.

NO TRACE DISCOVERED

Paris, Dec. 26.
The mystery of the French aeroplane which disappeared after taking off from Tunis for Benghazi, has been cleared up by the discovery of the machine in remote country on the coast of Tripoli.
The machine evidently got out of control and crashed heavily. Searchers for the missing airmen sighted the wreckage of a plane from the air and investigation showed that it was the machine for which they were searching. All three occupants were dead, and there is reason for believing that they were killed instantly.

The dead airmen are M. Lascalle, M. Robert and M. Faltot, none of them being very well known.
They took off from Le Bourget aerodrome about twelve days ago on a flight to Saigon. They made excellent progress arriving at Tunis in a nonstop flight on the 14th. They took off the following morning early for Benghazi, and have been missing ever since. The British, Libyan and Egyptian authorities have been co-operating with the French Government in the hunt for the machine, exhaustive searches having been carried out for more than a week.

Another Tragedy.

Athens, Dec. 26.
An Italian mail-carrying seaplane, with a crew of five, crashed during a storm near the small island of Steustiratos, off the Turkish coast.

A Greek cruiser, the "Helle," was in the vicinity at the time of the crash and she was despatched to the rescue, but no trace was discovered of the machine or its occupants, and it is feared that all aboard have lost their lives.

Terrible Experience.

Rangoon, Dec. 26.
In a telegram describing the accident to his aeroplane almost on the last lap of the long trip from Paris to Saigon, Le Brix states that he and Rossi were flying at a height of at least two thousand metres, over 6,000 feet, in the Moulmein Valley.

At midnight they found themselves in the clouds with mountains all round them. They quickly realised that the danger was extreme and this was enhanced when they found themselves being forced down to earth.
It was impossible for them to turn back so they flew in circles for an hour.

Light Gives Out.

Eventually the lighting on board their craft gave out, further complicating matters.

During the whole period of this rather scary experience, a heavy storm was blowing and the machine was frightfully buffeted.

Finally they decided to jump clear of the machine in their parachutes in order to avoid striking the mountains and running the risk of a fatal crash.

Rossi's Accident.

Rossi's parachute was damp and worked badly and he landed on his back. He was delirious and in great pain for some hours till the assistance of natives was forthcoming. The natives carried him to their village and soon afterwards medical aid arrived.

It is probable, says Le Brix, that his colleague will be laid up in hospital for six weeks.

Le Brix himself escaped unscathed from the mishap. Their aeroplane which flew some little distance after they had abandoned her, crashed and was destroyed.

LAICHIKOK PRISON ESCAPE.

SHORT-TERM MAN SUCCEEDS IN GETTING AWAY.

IS STILL AT LARGE.

Local prison authorities are making extensive enquiries into the whereabouts of a Chinese prisoner who escaped from the Laichikok Gaol some days ago, and who is still at large.
As is known, Laichikok Gaol is utilised for the accommodation of short-term prisoners, and the man who escaped was doing a sentence of three months' hard labour for "larceny from the person."

It appears that the prisoner was one of a party working in the gardens situated below the prison on a piece of low-lying ground fairly close to the main road. Prisoners so employed are in charge of guards, but in this instance it seems that the man somehow managed to elude his watchers and disappeared.
When the disappearance of the prisoner became known, special search parties were sent out, but without result, although the locality was very thoroughly combed.

On enquiry from Mr. J. W. Franks, Prison Superintendent, this morning, we were informed that the prisoner escaped on Saturday, and that the exact circumstances under which he managed to get away are still being investigated.
So far as can be gathered, no one actually witnessed the escape of the man, who is still at large.

POLAR EXPLORER'S LAPSE.

DR. COOK APPLYING FOR PRISON RELEASE.

New York, Dec. 26.
It is learned from Leavenworth, Kansas, that an application by Dr. Cook, the well-known Polar explorer, for his release on parole from his sentence of fourteen years' imprisonment for conspiracy to use the mails fraudulently, will be heard in January.
Dr. Cook has served one third of his sentence and will, therefore, be eligible for release on parole if he can produce a record of good behaviour while in prison.

CHRISTMAS MORN OUTRAGE.

CHILD SEES HER MOTHER KIDNAPPED.

Despite the fact that they did not use arms, threats or make any assault, four men succeeded in kidnapping a woman and stealing jewellery valued at $54 from a residence in Chan Chuk Wan, New Territory, in the early hours of Christmas morning.
They entered the residence of Chung See, aged 47, and carried her off before the eyes of her little daughter, Pang Fui, aged 13, and also decamped with a certain amount of jewellery. They made their escape by boat.

SHIP'S TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

B. AND S. BOAT 5 1/2 DAYS ON 18-HOUR TRIP.

PROPELLOR SHAFT DAMAGED IN HEIGHT OF GALE.

OFFICERS' HEROISM.

Smothered in ice from stem to stern, with a blinding snow storm raging, a terrific north-easterly gale of violence seldom encountered even in the notorious Gulf of Pechili, taking seas over the funnel and rolling and pitching to an alarming extent, the China Navigation Company's s.s. Fengtien had a terrible experience on her last trip from Tientsin to Shanghai. After 25 years on the Tientsin-Shanghai run, she encountered the worst trip in her career and in the career of all on board.
The vessel was 132 hours—5 1/2 days—at sea between Tongku and Chefoo. The ordinary run is 18 hours.
Her propeller shaft was fractured. This was due to the racing of the engines caused by the propeller being constantly out of water. With engineers in the narrow space in the propeller tunnel, frantically carrying out repairs, the vessel drifted and drifted.
The passengers—26 in all—cannot say enough in appreciation of the work done by the officers, engineers, and crew in bringing the ship to safety.
Never before in the history of British companies has a ship taken 5 1/2 days to make Chefoo harbour from Tongku.

Food Given Out.

Passengers and crew were given biscuits in lieu of bread during the last day on the voyage. There was no more bread and very little food of any description. No one could have anticipated such an adventure.
The ship was simply smothered in one of the worst storms ever met with off the coast of China. When bearings were at last possible—the captain found his charge north of Port Arthur, miles and miles off his course, blown by the gale which nothing could resist.

Forced to Heave to.

The Fengtien left Tongku at 7 p.m. on Thursday, December 12. A heavy sea was running and half a gale blowing. Such conditions are not uncommon in this run. A few hours out mountainous seas were encountered and the gale increased in fury. Speed was reduced to four knots and the vessel battled against the heavy odds. Capt. Byrne decided at 9 o'clock on Friday morning—December 13—that he must heave to and ride the mountainous waves. This manoeuvre was successfully accomplished and the ship bravely carried out the intentions of her master.
The propeller was constantly out of water and at 4 a.m. on Saturday morning after a terrible night during which sleep was impossible, the engineer on watch noticed that something was wrong with the propeller shaft. He notified the chief and an inspection was made, and they carried on. At 9.32, the worst came. Bolts connecting the junctions of the shaft were broken and the engines worked without effect on the propeller.

Splendid Repair Work.

The 2nd engineer, Mr. W. J. G. Jones, and the 3rd engineer, Mr. R. L. Sweet, entered the tunnel in which is the shaft. The ship was pitching, tossing, and rolling and shipping seas all over. They got spare bolts and after a terrific encounter, during which sledge hammers had to be used to drive the repair bolts into place, the engines were again able to function. Two men had to hold the engineers up so that they could wield their hammers. Thrown from side to side of the tunnel and in a crouching position they eventually conquered, but not until they were exhausted and bruised.

Meanwhile, officers were reassuring the passengers, all of whom behaved splendidly in spite of their terrifying surroundings. They were not advised of the extremely serious trouble down below, but were told that "it is more comfortable to ride at anchor in such circumstances." The ladies knew nothing of (Continued on Page 12.)

THE MACAO YACHT RACE.

"NORSEMAN" EASILY COMES IN FIRST.

NAVAL MEN WINNERS.

After an eventful journey, the Norseman was the first yacht to cross the finishing line at the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club this morning at 12.37.04 on the conclusion of the annual race to Macao and back. The Queen Bee finished about 40 minutes later and the Curlew secured third place.

Those aboard the winning yacht were Lieut. Commander L. G. Addington, R.N., Pay Lieut. Commander D. M. Pasmore, R.N., and Lieut. Commander E. E. Hill, R.N. Speaking to a Telegraph representative, Lieut. Commander Addington stated that they took the passage South of Lantau at the start yesterday morning, together with the Queen Bee and the Curlew. They lost sight of the Chilkoot just above Cheung Chau Island at about midday yesterday. The Queen Bee and Curlew drew ahead of the Norseman at about 1.30 p.m. All three yachts had a fair wind which held all the way down to the mark boat at Macao which was rounded first by the Queen Bee and Curlew, at about 6.20 p.m., the Norseman getting round later.

The Queen Bee and Curlew kept their lead, but the Norseman overtook the Curlew at eight o'clock last night, with the Queen Bee about two miles ahead. At about this time the wind dropped and the Norseman was becalmed until 3.30 this morning. At 9.30 last night, the Norseman was hailed by the Coquette which had come north of Lantau and was still on the outward journey.

At about 3.30 this morning, the wind freshened and at daylight the Norseman's crew sighted the Queen Bee about two miles to leeward away from Capsulman. At a quarter to nine the wind settled, became favourable and lasted until the finishing line was crossed.
Lieut. Commander Addington said that they did not see any of the other yachts taking part in the race.

There are ten competitors, so that seven had still to finish at 11 p.m. to-day.

INDIAN CONGRESS DECISIONS.

CAN'T PARTICIPATE IN THE COMING CONFERENCE.

BOYCOTT DISCUSSED.

Lahore, Dec. 26.
The Executive Committee of the Indian National Congress has decided that Gandhi's resolution defining Swaraj as complete independence, etc., when submitted to the Congress-to-day shall begin by expressing appreciation of the efforts of the Viceroy towards a peaceful settlement, but regretting that the Congress is unable, in the present circumstances, to be represented at the proposed Round Table Conference.
The Committee discussed the resolution for four hours to-day. No delegate offered the boycott of the Councils, but some urged that the boycott should include the Law Courts and schools.
Dr. Ansari and Miss Naidu suggested that the door should not be closed to further negotiations.
In his reply, Gandhi said that even in the case of the most militant Irish programme the door was not closed, and in all political warfare the opponents could always meet at the peace table.—Reuter.

MEXICAN LEADER IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, Dec. 26.
Senor Ortiz Rubio, the President-Elect of Mexico, was accorded a most elaborate welcome by the U. S. Government on his arrival here to-day.
The ceremonies included a personal welcome at the station by Mr. H. L. Stimson, the Secretary of State, and Mrs. Stimson, and an exchange of calls between President Hoover and Senor Rubio.

BLACK MONDAY IN SHANGHAI.

HEAVY LOSSES BY SHAREBROKERS.

ENORMOUS SUMS QUOTED AS TURN-OVER.

FRENZIED TIMES.

Shanghai, Dec. 23.
At midnight last night the Settlement was still in complete confusion. Members were suspended, having paid 42 per cent, 40 per cent, and 35 per cent, respectively. An extraordinary general meeting of the members of the Exchange will be held on December 31, when resolutions will be put to the meeting in connexion with defaulters and it will then be decided whether anything further can be done to assist matters.
It was estimated by some brokers last evening that cheques to the value of Tls. 30,000,000 had already changed hands. Other brokers mentioned Tls. 22,000,000. The gross turnover of shares was placed at Tls. 100,000,000. How far these figures are correct it is impossible to say and we set them out as given to the writer.

Disclosures Expected.

Actions have already been commenced in the law courts and yesterday morning two preliminary hearings were held in H.M. Supreme Court. We are informed that others are to be filed almost immediately. Disclosures of an alarming nature are forecast at the hearings and facts laid bare which will cause further sensations.
Extraordinary figures were mentioned by the writer by brokers. Clients are alleged to have purchased on margin and, indeed, without margin at all, thousands of shares running into many tens of thousands of taels, people who in fact were known to be unable to meet the situation should a serious drop occur.

Some Brokers Ruined.

The drop did occur and what happened yesterday is the result. Many clients have had to find money to meet losses which were never expected while others have had to pay "I will give you no much, I have lost so much and I can't pay." The brokers have had to accept that the brokers have been hard hit in an actual fact. Some, it is believed, are ruined and others are in serious predicaments.

It is generally believed, however, that the repercussions outside the exchange will not be so big as was originally anticipated.

A Frenzied Day.

Never before in the history of Shanghai has such a scene been witnessed in the Shanghai Stock Exchange. From 8 o'clock yesterday morning until very late brokers were rushing here and there—always careful to pick up their little attaché cases before rushing for in these were scribbles endeavouring to assist in bringing the Settlement to a close. The Hongkong & Shanghai Bank did everything possible to assist in the Settlement and remained open until almost midnight. The Stock Exchange Committee were in the Bank between 8 o'clock and 9 o'clock last night and then returned to the Exchange and announced "carry on with your Settlements."

One broker announced that he had Tls. 300,000 worth of promissory notes which he offered for sale for Tls. 2,000, cash on the spot. Another announced that he had sold out Tls. 800,000 in cash during the day and that he still owned nearly Tls. 450,000. "I am a bankrupt," "I don't know what to do," "My clients have let me down."

Money and Papers.

These and similar declarations were made in the course of the evening. Practically all brokers have lost heavily and that part of the Settlement which is complete is in many instances augmented by promissory notes, and other methods to supplement the cash handed over.
There is no doubt that brokers have suffered heavily and that clients have been unable to pay their losses. In fact, in many instances, some clients have paid proportionately acceptable sums towards their indebtedness while, of course, in many instances, clients paid the total amount

ANGRY WEATHER IN NORTH SEA.

SEVERAL CHRISTMAS DAY SHIPPING MISHAPS.

ELEMENTS COMPETE.

London, Dec. 26.
The Christmas holiday weather was extraordinarily variable yesterday. The sun came out on several occasions, while sleet and rain both took their turns in the course of the day.

The bad weather was accompanied by very high winds, reaching a ninety-mile an hour hurricane along the coast.
Several shipping mishaps occurred in the Channel, along both the British and French coasts. A number of fishing vessels caught in the storm were cast on the rocks, their crews narrowly escaping a watery grave.
Heavy weather was experienced in the North Sea, but few mishaps occurred. The vessel most severely affected was the Lightship "Thalun," which badly buffeted developed a bad leak and suffered other damage.

A new two hundred ton vessel on her way from Newcastle to Rangoon had a bad time in the heavy weather and had to be towed into dock at Dover.
Boxing Day was favoured by warm sunshine and most agreeable outdoor weather, of which holiday-makers took the fullest advantage.—Reuter.

NOVELIST'S LOSS IN HONGKONG.

MR. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM LOSES £30.

The visit to Hongkong of Mr. E. Phillips Oppenheim, the well-known fiction writer, who is amongst those making a world tour on the pleasure yacht Stella Polaris, has been somewhat marred by the loss of a considerable sum of money.
According to a report made to the police by Colonel Wyatt, of Repulse Bay, whilst Mr. Oppenheim was in Pedder Street on Christmas Eve, he discovered that he had lost £30 in English money. The money was contained in an unaddressed envelope which he had in his pocket, but on searching for it, he realised that it was missing.

THE BLAZE AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

ATTRIBUTED TO FLUE OVERHEATING.

Washington, Dec. 26.
The fire which destroyed the Presidential Executive Offices attached to the White House occurred on Christmas Eve.
It is attributed to the overheating of a defective flue.
President Hoover has decided to use as his office, the room in the White House in which President Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation.—Reuter's American Service.

DE RIVERA VISITING MOROCCO.

POSSIBLE FRENCH PUNITIVE OPERATIONS.

Madrid, Dec. 26.
It is reported from Madrid that the forthcoming visit of General Primo de Rivera, the Spanish Dictator, to Morocco, is due to a request from the French Government that Spain send twenty thousand men to Morocco in connexion with operations contemplated by the French authorities.—Reuter.

owing and in other cases clients who had to receive large sums were content to receive a proportion.

The reason of course for this unprecedented situation is the heavy depreciation in shares—notably cottons and rubbers—but principally the former. Wild speculations in these issues caused record turnovers during the past few months, and £200,000, which touched Tls. 24, dropped until they were done at Tls. 14, and thereafter. They now are at Tls. 15.—N. C. Daily News.

BOXING DAY HOME FOOTBALL.

SENSATIONAL AWAY VICTORIES.

SEVERAL COMPLETE FORM REVERSALS.

THE VILLA'S TRIUMPH.

London, Dec. 26.
Boxing Day produced the usual crop of surprises in the soccer world. Some of the reversals of form almost bordered on the sensational. Manchester City, for instance, leaders of the First Division on Christmas Day, found the tables turned completely at Manchester, Aston Villa winning by two goals to one. Portsmouth, beaten at home yesterday, got the odd goal against the £50,000 Arsenal team in London, while Manchester United gained victory at Birmingham having failed to win before their own supporters.
Sheffield Wednesday, the league champions, again trounced Everton and are now the best-placed team in the division.

Six Draws in Div. II.

The notable feature of the Second Division struggles was that points were shared in six. West Bromwich "revenge" themselves for their defeat at Millwall, piling up the highest score of the day—6-1—at home. Blackpool, the leaders of the division, fell from grace, Chelsea getting four goals without reply. They still head the league, however. Charlton brought off the best performance of the day, scoring four goals against the Wolves, at Wolverhampton.

The most startling result of the whole list, however, is to be found in the Third Division (South), Bournemouth, who won by 5 goals to one at Gillingham yesterday, and had only been beaten twice this season, lost at home to Gillingham in the return match. Gillingham are second from the bottom of the table.

Plymouth and the Vale.

Merthyr, the bottom team, defeated Watford at Watford, this being their second win of the season. Bristol Rovers, defeated 6-1 by Fulham on Christmas Day, won by 4-1 against the same team to-day.
Plymouth Argyle amply revenged themselves for their defeat at Coventry, winning the return by three clear goals.

In the Third Division (North) Stockport County again proved too strong for Port Vale, the leaders, who are now only four points ahead. Stockport being three matches in arrears.

FESTIVE SEASON.

BOXING NIGHT CARNIVAL DANCE.

The big social event of Boxing Night was the roof garden carnival at the Hongkong Hotel. This happy event proved to be a great draw and the handsome little ballroom was booked out long before Christmas. Beautifully decorated and thronged with a well dressed, laughing gathering the ballroom might have been situated in the heart of Paris or London. Among those who entertained parties were:

Messrs. Tang Shui-kin, Lawrence, Wilson, Hin-shing Lo, Ho Kwong, T. K. Yip, W. J. Hawker, Finchen, Miss R. Mowfung, Messrs. H. A. Kelly, J. P. Oldrup, B. Young, P. J. Clancy, J. Brown, Sugaro, Pears, H. S. Cupplingdale, C. J. Roe, N. S. Lim, H. Settle, E. L. Harley, Killbee, G. S. Ford, Chung Ngan-ming, M. D. Lee, E. Hainesworth, W. L. Alexander, A. Eastman, Greenhaigh, Fox, Foralta, Kunishira, Larsson, Howard Johnson, Stone, Castille, Graham, Oxland, Vallantine, Waring, Swan, Barry, Gladstone and Maitron.

The manager of the Hongkong Hotel, Mr. A. K. Dimond, deserves the greatest credit for the success of the brilliant carnival. He worked untiringly for weeks past to make the Boxing Night event a memorable one.

Civil Service Party.

Members of the Civil Service Cricket Club and their families spent a happy afternoon yesterday on the occasion of the annual Christmas tree and children's sports. A festive spirit prevailed as the children were set going on different forms of amusement, including a coconut shy and a chute, while the elder folk looked on or sought other diversions, such as dancing on the turf to music supplied by an orchestra.

The Christmas tree was a big affair, burdened with attractive toys, distributed to every child present at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. J. R. Wood, the wife of the President of the Club, who gave away the toys and prizes, was thanked by Mr. W. H. Edmonds and presented with a bouquet.

His Honour Mr. Justice Wood, replying on behalf of his wife, returned thanks for the invitation extended to her to assist Father Christmas in the person of Mr. Millington. He thought they would agree with him that a most successful afternoon had been spent. In this connexion they were indebted to Mrs. Edmonds and Mrs. Hollidge, who took such pains in arranging the Christmas tree, and to Messrs. Grimmitt and Deakin, without whose assistance the afternoon would not have been so successful. (Applause).

Occasion was taken to distribute the prizes to the winners in the Club's games, the list being as follows:

FAMOUS AUTHOR.

MR. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM ON EASTERN TOUR.

Travelling on board the motor yacht Stella Polaris, now in Hongkong, is Mr. E. Phillips Oppenheim, one of the best known and popular of modern authors. Mr. Oppenheim's detective stories command a wide field of readers, while he is also a prolific short story writer.

Chatting to a Press representative, whom he entertained aboard the yacht on Christmas night, Mr. Oppenheim said that he is now in his sixty-second year, and that he commenced writing at the age of nineteen.

"I can best describe it by saying that I caught the writing disease at a very early age," he said. "The first book was commenced in my nineteenth year and published when I was 20. I loved the work, but owing to the exigencies of my father's business, I could not devote myself entirely to it until I was 35. Nevertheless, I wrote in my spare time, making writing my hobby and pleasure, so that when the time came when I could give myself up to it I already had several books published."

Edgar Wallace's Works.

Naturally, the discussion moved to the subject of detective stories, and Mr. Oppenheim gave some very interesting information regarding the most famous of modern detective story writers, Edgar Wallace.

"A very false impression has been created by the fact that Mr. Wallace publishes so many works," said Mr. Oppenheim. "People talk about a literary shop and accuse him of getting others to write his books for him; but there is no justification whatever for such wild talk. What happened was that for many years Mr. Wallace had not known very great literary success but in that time he had written many books, some of which had been published, but others retained in manuscript form only. When his wave of success, which he thoroughly deserved, came along these works were naturally published, giving the impression that he was writing more than was humanly possible at the time. Mr. Wallace is a very fast writer."

Great admiration for the manner in which Mr. Wallace retained the friendship of police officers of all grades was expressed by his fellow novelist. "Mr. Wallace is 'Edgar' to more policemen than I could possibly count," said Mr. Oppenheim. "He can go to any part of Scotland Yard he likes at any time and be sure of a warm reception. In this way he gets thoroughly to know his policeman and this is reflected in the very natural detectives one finds in his books."

Works At Sea.

Mr. Oppenheim described pleasure cruises such as that of the Stella Polaris as his recreation. He is a keen traveller and likes to work at sea. In fact, he must do so if he is to keep up with the requirements of his publishers throughout the world.

"I dictate my works to a secretary who has been in my employ for over seven years," said the novelist. "One can think very well on the deck of a steamer on a calm day, and I think that I must have turned out my best work in this way. At present I restrict my output to two novels and a number of short stories a year. Most of these short stories have the same central character running through them and can afterwards be published in volume form. I was, I believe, the first writer to commence this style of work."

One felt a sudden longing for places European when Mr. Oppenheim described the delightful town in the South of France, where he lives in a Colony of famous writing people. Baroness Orczy, Mr. Somerset Maugham and scores of other authors have made their home in this pleasant place. They live quite close to Monte Carlo and Mr. Oppenheim is a frequent visitor to that famous resort.

Casino Crowds.

"Monte Carlo is the one place in the world which is always interesting," said Mr. Oppenheim. "I never tire of visiting there and watching the people. It is without doubt the most charming and wonderful place in the world."

Regarding Hongkong, Mr. Oppenheim said that it was one of the few ports on the cruise where he had taken a trip ashore. He found the climate delightful at this season of the year and thought the island one of the loveliest sights by day and night that he has seen. He is looking forward to a tour through the Chinese quarters, but laughingly insists that he is not looking for copy.

During the chat on deck, Mr. Oppenheim proved that he is no simple tourist. A coolie sold him a number of cane chairs at $3.50 each and then suggested $1.50 for the cushions. Mr. Oppenheim named 50 cents as his price, and eventually got his cushions at this figure.

Our picture shows the start of the Gordon Bennett international balloon race at St. Louis, with the Stadt Eszen (at right), a German entry, taking the air as the first of nine competitors. It came down near Catlin, Ill. In the foreground is the Goodyear VIII, which was piloted by Ward T. Van Ormer. It travelled 347 miles.

Cut like a coat, the Summit Dress Shirt slips on as easily as a dinner jacket. Since there is no need to allow room for struggling, it can be—and is—cut to fit very snugly.

The collar lies flat when the arm rests on any flat surface, because the opening is at the side of the wrist. Every neck band is marked with the smallest size collar which fits it comfortably and exactly. There is a pocket for the back stud.

ARMED ROBBERY.

OLD CHINESE WIDOW DISAPPEARS.

A case of kidnapping and robbery in which an old Chinese widow residing at Saigon Village, New Territories, was victimised, occurred yesterday morning shortly after one o'clock.

It appears that four robbers armed with knives broke into an unnumbered farm-house, the sole occupant being an old woman of about 50. She put up a stubborn resistance, but was overpowered. Some farmers in the neighbourhood heard the cries of the widow, but dared not investigate. In the morning they found that the house was open and all the furniture and belongings in great disorder. The widow was nowhere to be found. The outrage was referred to the police authorities.

"DESERT NIGHTS."

JOHN GILBERT IN A NEW ROLE.

In a vivid story of grim revenge, set amid dark Africa and the sweltering sun-baked fastnesses of its surrounding country, John Gilbert is at the Star Theatre, where his latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, "Desert Nights," opened yesterday. The story is a thrilling one, dramatically and realistically told. Its location is a part of the African desert where men and beasts alike fall within a few hours if they are compelled to go without water. In this dramatic setting the three leading characters play out their absorbing story of hate, revenge and love.

Gilbert is cast as the young manager of a large diamond mine, who is held up by a master crook and his bogus daughter after they have won his confidence. Besides taking a vast amount of diamonds, they make him their prisoner and force him to accompany them as they set out to cross the treacherous desert. Then things happen rapidly. Gilbert brings to this role a dramatic fire never before witnessed in his screen appearances. His characterization is positively thrilling.

Each of the characterizations are sharp and well defined. Mary Nolan plays the girl in a most convincing manner. Her blonde loveliness would be an asset to any production and she also proves herself a capable little actress. Earnest Torrence gives another one of the characterizations for which he is noted. It is finished, impressive and telling in every respect.

Independence of India, request all congressmen to withdraw from and boycott the Legislature, and authorise the All-India Congress committee to launch a campaign of non-payment of taxes and civil disobedience where and when deemed necessary. This programme means a reversion to the earlier one, and is likely to be adopted despite opposition by members of the legislatures, and this fact might lead to further postponement of the Congress of those who favour participation in the Legislative Council debates for purposes of offering obstruction. The position of Mr. Patel, who is President of the Legislative Assembly, would be most critical, as he would have to resign that post. Gandhi, on the other hand, is severe to adopting any such programme, which the younger section of the Congress is urging, though he yields to their demands by asking the Congress to define "General Molesters," define Swaraj as complete independence. SWARAJ DEFINED.

CRITICAL DECISIONS FOR THE COMING CONGRESS.

Lahore, Dec. 26.
Fateful decisions for the future of India and its position in the British Commonwealth are expected at the annual Indian National Congress, opening on December 29, but which has already begun committee work. Nearly three thousand delegates are gathering from all over India. The main discussions will revolve round resolutions drafted by Gandhi and Motilal Nehru. These condemn the working of the Viceroy's Council on December 28, withdrawing the Congress from committee work. Nearly three thousand delegates are gathering from all over India. MOTHERS. THE WORLD OVER FIND EVER READY HELP FOR AILING INFANTS IN BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

Tired fathers are inclined to be irritable when the baby keeps them awake through its crying at night, so Baby's Own Tablets are as much a blessing to them as to the mother whose task it is to try to soothe the little one off to sleep. Mr. Pee Choon Hing, a Chinese business man residing at No. 3 Jelai Street, Kuala Lipis, Pahang, F.M.S., is one of the many fathers who are grateful to Baby's Own Tablets for help they give under such circumstances. He writes:—

"For the past few months my baby did not sleep well at night, distressing us with frequent cries. But since taking Baby's Own Tablets he is quiet and peaceful; his appetite and general health are also much better than before. I highly recommend these Tablets to all parents."

Babies do not cry for fun. Sometimes they do so from temper, but usually indigestion, colic, pain in the bowel, or teething trouble, is the cause. It is for the quick relief of such ailments that Baby's Own Tablets have been specially devised. Guaranteed harmless, these pleasant little Tablets can be administered with ease and perfect safety even to the youngest or most delicate infant. Chemists everywhere sell Baby's Own Tablets, or post free, 60 cents per vial, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60, Kings Road, Shanghai.

VILMA BANKY.

METHODS OF MAKING STARS REVEALED.

A special writer for the leading movie magazines gives some intimate facts about the way Samuel Goldwyn grooms stars, dealing more particularly with Vilma Banky, star of his latest production, "This Is Heaven."

It is a proverb in Hollywood that Samuel Goldwyn's judgment of actors and actresses is almost infallible. In Vilma Banky, whose first comedy picture, "This Is Heaven", opened at the Queen's Theatre on Wednesday, there is another example of the skill with which Mr. Goldwyn can pick talent out of a mass of prospects and develop it skillfully until it fulfills all its promise. Miss Banky is entirely a product of Goldwyn training.

He discovered her five years ago when she was an inconspicuous actress in inconspicuous European pictures. She was the only result that year of his annual expeditions to Europe in search of new faces for his productions, having been discovered and marked as likely material when Mr. Goldwyn saw a picture in which she had a small part. In most cases where an actor is brought to Hollywood from abroad, he or she is left to sink or swim in the welter of faces and personalities of the film colony after making a picture or so. But that is not the way Mr. Goldwyn works. Any potential star who has impressed him sufficiently to be worth taking to America is watched carefully. The only time Miss Banky has been allowed to go off the Goldwyn lot in the years she has been making pictures in the States was when she was loaned to Paramount to make two pictures opposite Rudolph Valentino, then the most famous male star in the business.

Steadily rising in popularity, in a series of nine pictures, kept busy but never overworked, Miss Banky has justified the faith which Mr. Goldwyn, known as the keenest mind in filmdom, felt as soon as he had first interviewed her. Her development was parallel to that of Ronald Colman for the earlier part of his career, the two of them becoming known as an historical pair of screen lovers in their series of co-starring pictures, beginning with "The Dark Angel," and going on through "The Winning of Barbara Worth," "The Night of Love," "The Magic Flame" and "Two Lovers." "This Is Heaven," her newest picture, gives her her first straight comedy role and shows her to her public for the first time in the part of a modern American girl.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. J. W. PRIDEAUX.

We regret to record the death of Mr. J. W. Prideaux, which occurred suddenly early yesterday morning, at his residence in the Railway Villa, Kowloon.

On the previous night, Mr. Prideaux had appeared to be in sound health, and was present at a Christmas entertainment given to a number of friends. He retired to bed at 11 p.m., and was found dead, apparently from heart failure, at 2 o'clock the following morning (yesterday).

The late Mr. Prideaux was employed as an assistant in the Chart Depot, Royal Naval Yard. He was 44 years of age, and is survived, we understand, by a widow and daughter who are at home. His sudden demise has come as a shock to his many friends in Naval Yard circles and elsewhere.

The funeral took place last evening at the Protestant Cemetery, in the presence of a large number of friends, the Rev. Mr. Hewart, Chaplain of the Naval Yard, officiating. In addition to personal tributes, a large number of wreaths were sent by Naval Yard institutions and different messes on board the naval ships.

WOMAN'S WORLD FOR OUR LADY READERS.

If any doubt exists as to whether or not the very new fashions are being accepted at formal functions—dipel it immediately for it is here to stay, and women "have gone literally mad" about the new vogue. The strongest impression which is gleaned, in the great extent to which the latest and floor lengths have been accepted. Short gowns are demode. No longer are the long-lined straight line models in the running for the feminine elaborateness has taken its place. Which introduces panels, flounce bows and all the dressmakers' ingenious bag of tricks to the formal hour. The result—pronounced fullness and a dressed-up quality.

Naturally, as in street clothes—the princess silhouette reigns supreme, thus the raised waistline, moulded bodice, more often than not, belted and sometimes bloused around the top of the hips.

In gowns employing shoulder straps, which generally occur in round or square cut necklines, the straps are jewelled, while some flaunt fabric bows tied on the shoulders. Very popular are flowers which appear on one shoulder, strap effect.

The fact that trains and long irregular hemlines prevail proves conclusively that women have no aversion to dancing in trailing skirts. Lustrous transparent velvet, taffeta and chiffons find enthusiastic exponents in the younger set, who are selecting with a view to drama, fraternity and sorority dances and other formal.

Winsome Loretta Young, who herself is a student, wears this charming little green transparent velvet frock, featuring princess lines, the uneven hemline, flared and dipping in the back, low décolletage in front and back, topped by a soft cape, cascading down the back. Miss Young can be seen wearing many smart creations in two of her forthcoming First National Vitaphone productions, "Forward Pass" and "Loose Ankles" opposite Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Taffeta in pastel shades and black is being worn. Black velvet and gold or silver lame combinations are sophisticated and decorative. Olive Borden, vivacious featured player, wears a gown in a similar class in First National's "Wedding Rings." It sponsors the black velvet skirt, short in front and long in back, and silver beaded satin bodice. The gown is backless, while the silver straps fastened to the skirt are evolved in a criss-cross effect.

Crepes, satins and panne velvet are important. While black is the predominant colour in these fabrics, various shades of green, red, purple, brown and orange vie for laurels.

Among the very striking creations some of the cinema stars brought back from Paris, is a Patou gown of georgette in Patou's new nasturtium middle shade, its simplicity outstanding. For trimming it has two rows of hand scalloping in the same material down the front of the waist, which continues almost half down the skirt, where they edge horizontal pleats across the hips. Beneath these pleats fall two handkerchief ripple panels in front and back. The belt is a solid mass rhinestone embroidery. The evening wrap which completes this ensemble is of soft nasturtium chiffon, wedding-ring velvet trimmed with a double row of brown sable on the shawl collar and wide sable cuffs.

The black satin mode is exemplified in this smart creation worn by the inimitable Billie Dove, in "The Other Tomorrow" for First National Vitaphone. It too stresses the importance of the full skirt, instep length, moulded silhouette and deep décolletage.

first," is their plan.

It is all really a matter of habit. And certainly the tendency to-day is against anything so leisurely as long-sustained listening.

But whether things are as bad as they are reported to be in this connexion, it is difficult to say.

We hear continually about the lost art of conversation, yet I have heard it maintained that there never was an art of conversation to be lost.—H.M. in Exchange.

An Art.

LOST POWERS OF LISTENING

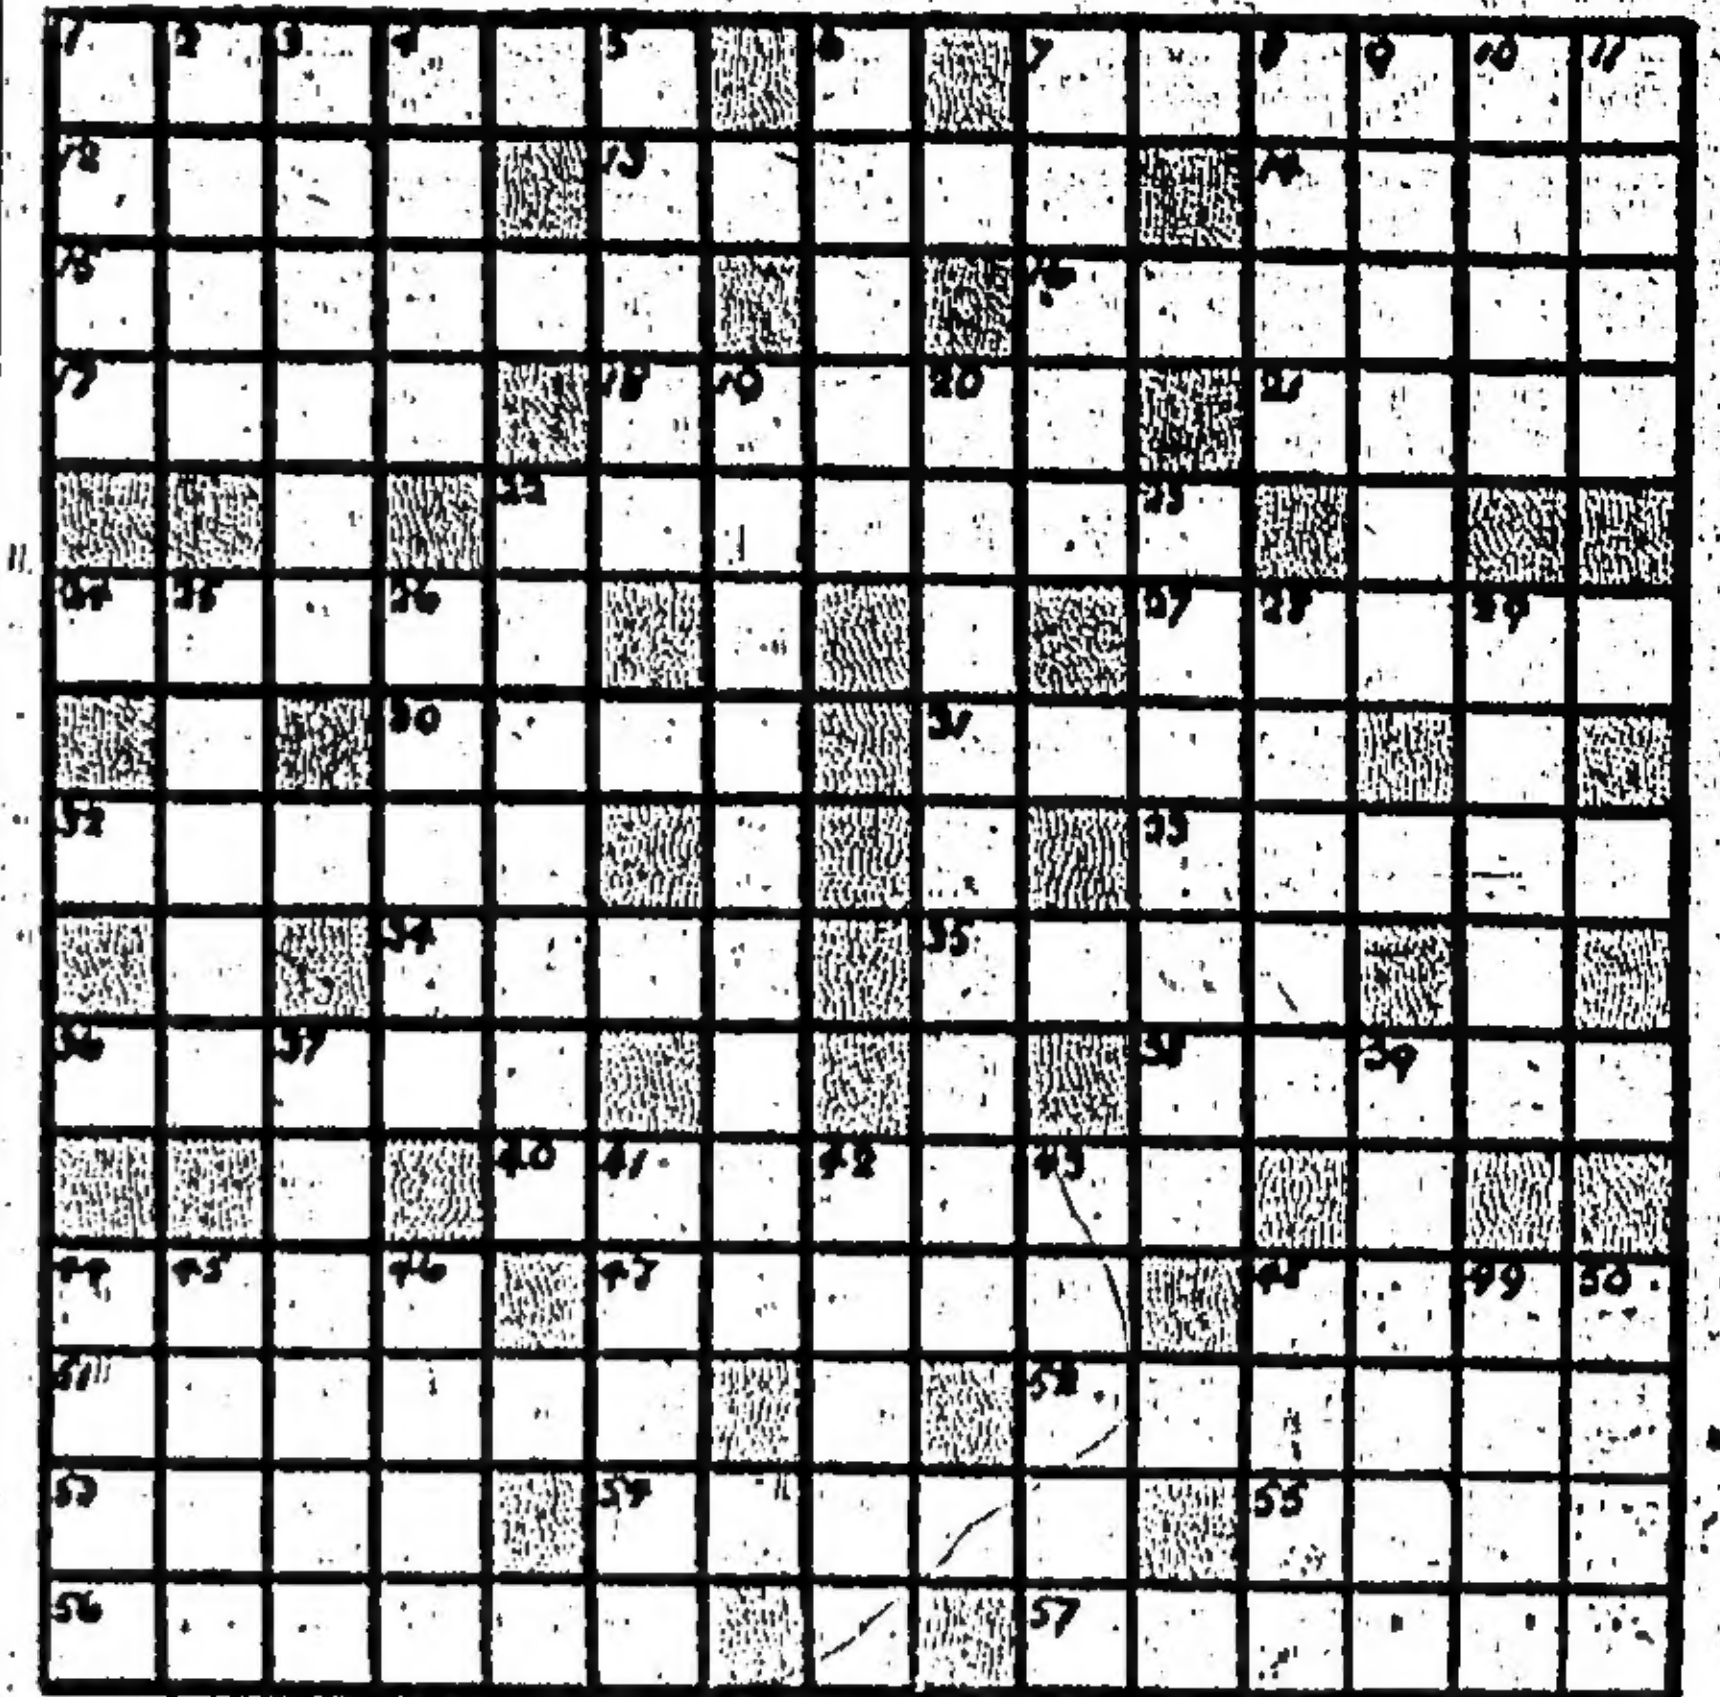

If it is true that, as Dr. Massfield stated in Glasgow in his presidential address to the Scottish Association for the Speaking of Verse, recently, the art of listening has declined during the last hundred years, then, it seems to me, that one source to which we may look for a reviving influence is to be found in broadcasting.

It is true that listening is an art and it is one that needs practice just as any other art does.

There are many people who, not having been accustomed to listen much to the spoken voice, would feel decidedly uneasy if asked suddenly to act upon information or impressions conveyed in a long-continued speech. "Let me see it in black and white

"THE BLACK WATCH"

MYRNA LOY IN ALL-TALKING FILM.

Myrna Loy, who plays the feminine lead in the all-talking "The Black Watch", Fox Film starring Victor McLaglen, is claimed to be one of the most colourful and exotic personalities on the present-day screen.

Her role of "Yasmani" in this pretentious production is easily the most important she has been cast for in her brief but splendidly successful picture career.

"Yasmani", as created by Talbot Mundy, author of the novel from which the picture is adapted, is a voluptuous figure, exotic, mysterious, a she-devil with whom many men matched wits only to come out second best.

The stellar role, played by McLaglen, is that of "Captain Donald Gordon King", of the famous "Black Watch", the nickname for the 42nd Highlanders.

"The Black Watch", which comes to the Queen's Theatre on Sunday, is expected to prove the greatest directorial triumph of John Ford, the man who produced "The Iron Horse", "Four Sons", "Hangman's House" and "Napoleon's Barber" as well as more than a score of other film successes. The supporting company includes David Rollins, Lumsden Hare, Roy D'Arcy, Mitchell Lewis, Cyril Chadwick and Walter Long. John Stone wrote the scenario.

LETTER GOLF.

Today's letter golf puzzle has a little HIDE and SEEK mixed up with it just for the exercise.

1.—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

2.—You can change only one letter at a time.

3.—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4.—The order of letters cannot be changed. One solution is printed on another page.

FRIDAY DEC. 27, 1929.

THE WRONG WAY.

The form of government under which Hongkong labours provides so little scope for the effective play of unofficial opinion that we cannot but regret any Government action which seems to treat as of small account the efforts of those who gratuitously give much time and service to work connected with the administrative life of the Colony. For this reason, we find ourselves in general agreement with the attitude taken up by two Unofficial members of the Sanitary Board when they protested, at the last meeting, against the manner in which the Government had turned down the proposal to display at various points in the Colony certain health propaganda posters which had been specially designed for the purpose of stressing the evils of the fly nuisance and of the spitting habit. The official reaction to this scheme leaves us wondering what the Government's real desires are. It will serve to an understanding of the matter if we recall that in September last, after very full consideration, the whole Board decided to put forward to the Government the proposal to issue these posters. Indeed, the Chairman of the Board himself proposed the motion approving of the experiment being made. It was, moreover, explained, at that meeting, that the Board had sufficient funds in hand for the project, so that there was no question of seeking a special grant. The members of the Board, Official and Unofficial alike, no doubt imagined that the scheme would go through, and that the submitting of the matter to the Government was merely a matter of form. We can, therefore, imagine their surprise when, on Monday last, the Board was orally notified by its Chairman that the Government did not consider the publication of the posters desirable. In the first place, it does strike us as being rather unusual, and somewhat casual, of the Government to make the notification in the manner which it chose to adopt, instead of communicating to the Board in writing the reasons why it had reached its decision to ban the posters. It is true that the Chairman pointed out that officers of the Education Department did not favour the use of the posters in schools, and that he conveyed an impression that a "good deal of explanation would be needed before the placards could convey the message which they were intended to carry. None the less, we cannot see why the official attitude could not have been less brusquely intimated and some appreciation have been shown of the Board's efforts in the matter. It is pertinent, also, to ask precisely who makes these veto decisions. Is it a case of certain Government departments setting themselves in authority over the Sanitary Board? If so, we heartily agree with the speakers at Monday's meeting that such action reduces the work of the Board to a farce and lowers its prestige and authority.

The only grain of comfort that we can gather from the incident is that the matter may again come forward when a committee of the Board goes into the whole question of health propaganda. All the same, in view of the Government veto on the posters, as at present designed, we can appreciate the viewpoint of the Unofficials when they query the utility of spending more time and thought on the question. Whilst from the strictly constitutional standpoint the Government has the right to turn down Sanitary Board proposals, it would appear reasonable to expect that some measure of faith and confidence should be reposed in members of the Board when they put forward their considered views on a matter of this kind. These men are neither cranks nor sadists; they have presumably been chosen to serve because they can offer useful advice to the Government. The least they expect, therefore, is some show of co-operation and some trust in their judgment. At times, as in this incident, they appear to get neither the one nor the other.

Inconsistency?

An undercurrent of ridicule is apparent in the comments of some influential public men and newspapers of Europe upon President Hoover's proposition for freedom of the seas for food ships in time of war. There is an inclination to detect in the suggestion a drifting away from the basic proposition set forth by the Briand-Kellogg pact that there should be no more wars. Europe enquires why it is that, after having invited and secured the adhesion of practically all the nations of the world to a mutual agreement to renounce war as an instrument of national policy, the President of the United States suddenly turns around and offers a suggestion for humanizing the wars which have been renounced. Agreeing heartily with his proposition that the starvation of women and children should be abandoned as a weapon of war, the enquiry is made why all other weapons are not naturally abandoned, since war has been outlawed. Indeed, the President's suggestion, taken with the background afforded by the Briand-Kellogg pact, does lend itself to satire. And yet, it is pointed out by a leading American journal, reason and common sense have their place in the discussion of international relations. The peace pact, to begin with, did not renounce all wars, but, as its foes vigorously pointed out, left loopholes for wars of self-defence, for wars in the fulfilment of commitments to the League of Nations, for wars in support of the Monroe Doctrine. Even had it renounced all wars, it would still need material implementation before that renunciation could be made effective. The pact needs to be supplemented by the creation of courts of arbitration, conciliation and adjudication of international disputes, or by the universal acceptance of already existing courts. It will need, notwithstanding protests of well-meaning sentimentalists, the establishment of some form of international police to enforce the decisions of such courts. All this is yet to be accomplished. The nations of the world may feel that out of the peace pact may in time proceed such an organization of the world for peace that wars will become unknown. But pending the completion of that organization, it is well that subjects which may lead to international disputes should be settled as far as may be by international agreements. If the whole question of neutral trade in time of war could be determined, and the method of enforcing that determination established, one potent cause for international dissension would be measurably removed from the field of controversy.

Mr. Hoover's proposition does not go so far as to cover the whole question, but it may be the introduction to a more comprehensive plan.

MUSICAL JOTTINGS.

Some Comments on "The Gelsa"
The Next Helena May Musical.

[BY "ALLISON"]

The accounts of "The Gelsa" presented, some amusing differences of opinion which commenced with "E.W.H." and "ACWO" giving the honours of the evening to the men, while the S. C. M. P. critic wrote:—"The ladies neatly steal the majority of honours and it is they who make the production the success it is."

This prompted me to search through the accounts for further contradictions, a few of which are appended:—
Mimosas—"Mrs. Bowes Smith somehow reduced this role to the commonplace! (Either because she failed to realize the possibilities or because the part) was not really appealing to her."—ACWO. "Seldom has she sung better or acted with such understanding of her role."—S. C. M. P. "I am confident the role could not have been found a more capable exponent."—E.W.H. "The music is not quite in the compass of her voice and she would be wise to omit the endanzas."—ACWO. "Her principal songs were in a lower key than that in which her voice is heard to its best advantage."—E.M.B.

Molly—"Lella Clark has a voice much too light for the contralto part of Molly."—ACWO. "What is the authority for saying it is a contralto part? Was Lella Lind a contralto, or anything but a delightful dancer?"—E.W.H. "She had not the dancing capacity to do more than all the part pleasant."—E.W.H. "Her success was fully enhanced by the graceful dancing with which she followed up her numbers."—V.H.C. "Her dancing did much to contribute to the success of the evening."—E.M.B. "She is a dainty dancer."—ACWO.

Juliette—"She (Eileen Bellamy) does not make a success of Juliette. She is hardly suitable to be cast for a soubrette part which needs someone of slight build and a dainty dancer."—ACWO. "Mrs. Bellamy made a great success of the little French girl."—E.W.H. "Mrs. Bellamy had what was, perhaps, her best part as the French girl."—E.M.B. "It is the best part we have ever seen her in."—V.H.C.

Wun Hui—"Mr. Greensmith... takes liberties with the book... the fewer improvements made... the Owen Hall's work the better the production."—S. C. M. P. "His lines are good, his gags even better."—E.M.B. "Some of his gags were very witty indeed."—V.H.C. "His topical allusions were the hit of the evening."—E.W.H.

Fairfax—"He hardly does justice to his songs."—S. C. M. P. "He is not quite up to the standard required by his songs."—E.M.B. "His singing was excellent."—E.W.H. "His voice was very pleasing."—V.H.C. "He sang just as well as he sings."—ACWO. "Marquis Imari—"It would appear that Mr. Brock felt that his style was somewhat cramped by the limitations of his role."—E.M.B. "He takes the principal honours among the male roles... excellently cast."—S. C. M. P. "Takemini—"He sang his little piece excellently."—E.W.H. "His excellent operatic efforts in Scene I quite amazed us."—ACWO. "The very fact that... the operatic recitative was actually emanating from George Maas was quite enough to set the audience laughing."—V.H.C.

Although rather late in the day, I should like to sum up the above by expressing the opinion that all the performers in question made a success of their parts. It was more important that Molly should look a typical young English girl and dance gracefully than that she should lack these qualifications and hold forth like Kirby Lunn. As for Wun Hui's "improvements" on the original, something had to be done about this. The "pidgin English" of the original was ludicrous and much of it could hardly be understood. It was also very deficient in humour and Mr. Greensmith got his best laughs from his own gags. The whole show may be termed a great success and from a financial point of view it should have set the Philharmonic Society on its feet again. This, however, remains to be seen, as the expenses involved in such a well-staged production must have been very heavy.

On the whole the booking was spread out over all the performances far more evenly than usual, but it did not prevent many scores of people leaving it till the last minute and consequently failing to get admission on Monday night. The last night's show was specially successful, but there were many who regretted that the inevitable custom of the Philharmonic Society of having bouquets and gifts from well-wishers passed up over footlights was abandoned on this occasion. It is one of the features of a "last night" and the entire audience usually stays to witness it. As it was, the performers found a veritable flower garden behind the stage and had to search diligently Pictures in To-morrow's Supplement.

To-morrow's issue of the Telegraph Pictorial Supplement will be more than usually interesting from the fact that it will contain four illustrations dealing with the recent military revolt in Macao. Besides a photograph of Monte Fort, where the mutineers were quartered, there will be street scenes showing a soldier under cover and special police on duty, as well as loyal officers watching developments from a point of vantage.

Other pictures appearing in the supplement will be groups taken at the weddings of Mr. E. J. Hankin and Miss Florence Banks, and of Mr. E. Bougon and Miss M. Hahne-mann, whilst there will also be portraits of Mr. N. J. Perrin and his bride.

Sporting events illustrated will include the football match between the Army and Navy, as well as the Rugby game between the Club and H.M.S. Cornwall, whilst there will be a group of the Committee of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, another of the winners of the Inter-Class Football Competition at Queen's College, and a picture of the presentation of prizes at the Yau-mat School sports. There will also be pictures of displays given by the pupils of the Peak School last week.

through dozens and dozens of baskets and bunches of flowers "to make sure they had got everything." As for the gifts wrapped in brown paper, scores of people hunted through piles of them placed on a table in the semi-darkness of a passage. Chocolate boxes went astray. Overlooked packages were taken by friends to the recipients' dressing-rooms. It was all wrong.

Even if the handing-up of bouquets etc. is taboo during earlier performances, the last night's custom should never be abandoned by the Society in fairness, not only to the artists themselves, but to those who have been kind enough to send them gifts.

The next concert at the Helena May Institute will take place on January 9th at 5.30. Mrs. Bowes-Smith will sing Brahms and Russian composes; her husband will play Beethoven and Chopin; and the second half of the programme will be devoted to Grieg's Sonata in C minor for Piano and Violin, in which Major J. P. Macnair will play the violin part. This concert will be the first of the season's series to be broadcast.

A very good batch of Victor records has come to hand. Cortot plays the Children's Corner Suite of Debussy and two of his Preludes on two discs. These are well worth getting. Yehudi Menuhin, the violinist prodigy, gives us an improvisation which reveals marvellous tone, though the piece is not very interesting. McCormack sings several Schubert songs, for a change, while de Luca and Schipa give excerpts from Rigoleto. Bach-lovers will like the Shepherds' Christmas music played by the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. But I do not know how many people will be attracted by a new orchestral work—New Year's Eve in New York. If that is a true impression of the festival in Fifth Avenue, give me Hongkong every time.

WHO WAS... AKHENATON?

King Akhenaton was one of the first truly civilised men in the world, and by some indeed, has been described as the world's earliest humanitarian.

While men and nations were weltering in chaotic paganism, Akhenaton was the first to perceive the divine order in the universe. Incantations were ascending every day to the deity of the sun, but Akhenaton looked behind the sun and saw—God.

As a result of this vision the young Idealist strove to discover the workings of the moral law. He said that warfare was a crime, and a senseless business, and when his tribes around began an attack on Egypt he refused to offer resistance, so that the greater part of his kingdom was swallowed up by howling savages. Akhenaton died in the early twenties, about the year 1350 B.C., but he did not die before leaving the mark of his idealism upon the destiny of mankind.

MOTOR-CAR THEFT
EPIDEMIC.*THREE CASES DEALT WITH THIS MORNING.*PRISON SENTENCES.

That thefts of motor cars parts and accessories are becoming thoroughly prevalent in the Colony, and that he intends to take a serious view of such offences and do what he can to suppress this latest form of larceny, was stated by Mr. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy this morning, when he had to deal with three such cases.

Li Yui, aged 23, was charged with the larceny of a motor horn from a private motor car, No. 587, the property of Lo Yu-hang, of 19, Kennedy Road, on December 25, and, further, with receiving the articles and with unlawful possession of certain tools.

Mr. Harry Edward Strange of 127, Wong Nei Chong Road, said that about 4 p.m. on Wednesday he was watching a crowd of Chinese who were sitting on a wall at the rear of his house, intent on a football match, when he noticed the defendant, who appeared to be taking no interest in the game, with a parcel under his arm. Witness became suspicious and when defendant started to walk towards his garage, he went to meet him.

Witness seized hold of defendant, but unfortunately let go, and then asked him what he had in the parcel. The man replied it was something his brother had given him. Witness did not believe him, whereupon the defendant became very annoyed and flung the parcel at Mr. Strange. Luckily, witness caught it and the man turned and ran away. He gave chase, during which he noticed the accused throw another parcel into a garden. He caught the defendant in the Valley close by the Hongkong Football Ground, and handed him over to a Chinese constable.

The defendant denied that he threw the parcel at Mr. Strange. He gave it to him, and Mr. Strange threw it back at him.

The owner of the car said he left the vehicle unattended in Caroline Hill Road between 3 and 5.30 p.m. on December 25, during which time the horn was stolen. He identified the one produced as his.

Accused Disbelieved.

Accused said he did not steal the horn. He had been using the tools to repair a motor car and after work he went and watched the football match. He forgot to leave his tools at home before he went out. He obtained the tools from Chan Pau, a faki, who had previously worked with him. He did not know the parcel contained a horn, and he was not running away from Mr. Strange, but to get hold of Chan Pau.

The Magistrate said the man had been found in possession of a stolen horn and had given an absurd story of how he came by it. Thefts from motor cars were becoming very common and he intended to take a serious view of them. The man would be convicted and sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

Another Case.

A second case was that in which Chang Ming, aged 44, of no fixed abode, was charged with stealing a wind screen, valued $30, the property of Yung Sang, of Blisney Villas, Victoria Road, Pokfulam, on December 26th.

The complainant said that about 12.45 p.m. yesterday he brought the car into the garage and later saw the defendant walking away with the wind screen on his shoulders. He shouted to him to put it down, and when he approached, the defendant pretended to be intently examining the goods in the garage.

The defendant told a very long story to the Magistrate, during which he said that he had only been in Hongkong three days, and for two days had done odd jobs at Aberdeen. He was passing the garage at the time when he was looking for a job, and thinking he might obtain one there, he went in and saw a coolie put the wind screen outside of the garage. He did not run away and he did not steal the article. If he had stolen it, he would have run away. He was on the private path at the time because he had only been in Hongkong three days and did not know his way about.

Mr. Hamilton said the man seemed to have been in the Colony three days too many. He would be convicted and sent to prison for four months, with hard labour.

Overcoat Stolen.

The third theft from a motor car was disclosed in a case in which a Chinese was charged with stealing an overcoat from a car parked outside the Civil Service Cricket Club.

The coat was identified by Mr. J. Fraser, of the P.W.D., who said that he left it in a car outside the Club. A Chinese constable

WANG SHAO-HUNG.*AN ABLE OFFICIAL.

General Wang Shao-hung, who is reported to have succumbed to wounds received in the recent fighting between the Cantonese and Kwangsi armies, was one of the best-known military leaders in South China. He was for several years Military Governor of Kwangsi.

General Wang was one of the "Big Four" of the Kwangsi Clique, the others being Marshal Li Chai-sun, General Pei Chung-hai and General Li Chung-yen. It was he who defeated the Ironsides in 1927, driving them from Canton, and as a civil administrator he proved himself to be an able official. In particular, he was primarily responsible for the construction of over 2,000 miles of motor roads in Kwangsi. During his many years as Civil and Military Governor of Kwangsi, General Wang paid much attention to educational works and was instrumental in the inauguration at Wuchow of the Kwangsi University, for which the Kwangsi Government, when under General Wang's regime, paid as much as one million dollars in 1928 when the university was first opened.

General Wang was very keen on tennis, a game which he often played on his own court at Nanning, the capital of Kwangsi. He also frequently played in Canton.

Sentence of five months' hard labour was imposed on a Chinese by Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning when the man pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering 73, Laichikok Road. He stole a brass cooking pot worth $10 and a quilt.

The defendant was stated to have climbed over the back wall and after breaking the glass of a window lifted the latch. He took the brass cooking pot and the quilt, the cooking utensil later being handed over to a marine hawk.

The thief was given five months' hard labour while the hawk, who was charged with receiving stolen property, was fined $50 or one month's hard labour in default.

saw the defendant walking down Tin Lok Lane in the direction of the Praya with the overcoat on his arm, and as he approached the man, he ran away; but he later caught him.

The defendant said the constable stopped him outside the Civil Service Club. He had picked the coat off the ground and was just taking it into the Club to give it to a coolie and get a tip.

The Magistrate remarked that in leaving the coat in the unattended car, Mr. Fraser was asking for trouble. Thefts of that nature were becoming thoroughly prevalent and extremely annoying. The man would be sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

The Colony will learn with regret of the impending retirement of Mr. Hugh Richard Phelps, who has been Auditor to the Hongkong Government since 1904. Mr. Phelps will leave for England on January 4.

Mr. Phelps was well known in the Colony as a tennis player of merit in his younger days, and also took a keen interest in many other forms of sport. He was extremely popular in Government, business, and social circles and his retirement will be keenly felt by a host of friends.

Educated at Weymouth College, and later at Queen's College, Oxford, Mr. Phelps was appointed to the Exchequer and Audit Department in London in April, 1894. In October of that year he was made local auditor to the Niger Coast Protectorate and in December, 1896, became assistant auditor in Uganda. He served in the Uganda Muthy and received a medal and a clasp for his services. In April, 1897, Mr. Phelps was appointed local auditor to the East Africa Protectorate.

In 1904, Mr. Phelps was appointed local auditor to the Colony of Hongkong arriving here in December of that year. In 1911, he took over the duties of Hon. Auditor to the Hongkong University in addition.

LETTER BOX THIEF CAUGHT.*CHRISTMAS CARDS AMONG THE "HAUL."*CURIOUS METHODS.

At the Kowloon Magistracy this morning a Chinese appeared on charges of stealing letters from boxes at three different houses.

From the letter box of 107, Woosung Street, the defendant was alleged to have stolen a letter, while he was accused of having stolen two Christmas cards and a letter belonging to the Misses D. and M. Leong of 21, Shanghai Street. In the third instance, he was stated to have taken a letter from 395, Reclamation Street.

Detective Sergeant Fitches intimated that, in respect of the first charge, the defendant was alleged to have gone to the house and presented a letter purporting to have been sent by the complainant's mother from the country. The defendant stated that he was a travelling trader and had been asked to deliver the letter. He asked for 25 cents as expenses.

There was no stamp on the envelope while the writing did not not seem genuine. The complainant requested the defendant to call again to see her brother. On Christmas Day the defendant returned to the houses and later was confronted with the brother who doubted the defendant's representations. The brother then noticed that there were several letters in the defendant's pocket and became suspicious. With the assistance of a pedestrian the defendant was taken to the Police Station.

The other charges, continued the prosecuting officer, were a result of the discovery of the other letters on the defendant's person.

Returning to the third charge, Detective Sergeant Fitches said that the complainant had told the Police that he was expecting $25 to be remitted by a friend. On the defendant was only the envelope, the letter itself having been destroyed.

It was explained that the defendant usually stole the letters and opened them. After adding a brief message that the bearer was to be paid delivery expenses he used a new envelope.

His Worship remarked that he would have to severely punish the defendant for the offence and imposed sentence of two months' hard labour on each charge.

SENTENCED.

Denying that he had stolen a calculating machine, valued $838, from the Hongkong Tramway Company, but admitting that he had received it from another person, Lai Tung, an employee of the Company, was this morning sentenced to three months' imprisonment by Mr. Hamilton.

The Magistrate first inflicted a sentence of four months, but later reduced this, on account of the fact that the man had admitted the alternative charge.

The Secretary of the Tramway Company said the machine was stolen from the general office on the night of December 16. The office was open.

It was stated that the man had been employed by the Company for three years and his father also worked for them.

The defendant put in a plea of guilty to receiving the machine and this the police accepted, the first charge of larceny being withdrawn.

KOWLOON DOCK
THEFT.*STONE-BREAKER GETS A PRISON SENTENCE.

Two pieces of white brass, valued at $67.20, each were alleged to have been stolen from the Kowloon Docks by a stone-breaker who was engaged under Messrs. Lam Woo, contractors in blasting work in the yard. The man was arrested in Kowloon City Road with the metal concealed under a quantity of tools which were being carried in a basket.

On enquiries being made at the Dock, it was revealed that the man secretly smuggled the brass out of the yard. He was accordingly taken before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning and sentenced to six weeks' hard labour, his Worship remarking that in view of the value of the metal he would have to make the penalty severe.

BIG BOUT FOR NEXT TOURNAMENT.

CREIGHTON TO FIGHT EWIN FOR TITLE.

CHALLENGE TAKEN UP

[By "Wanderer."]

It is disclosed to-day, for the first time, that articles have been signed between Able Seaman Ewin, of H.M.S. Hermes, and A. B. Jack Creighton, the welterweight champion of the Colony, for a fifteen rounds contest to take place on January 4th, for the middleweight championship of the Colony.

It will be recalled that Ewin recently issued a challenge to Creighton, and that Creighton signified his willingness to meet the heavier man ("if he weighs a ton").

A. B. Ewin.

Creighton and Ewin are two of the best men at their weight ever seen in the Far East. Ewin's capabilities are rather better known than those of Creighton. Ewin has not been beaten for over two years, and indeed, it has been difficult to find opponents for him.

Creighton gave a very impressive display in the last tournament of the Hongkong Boxing Association, though the opposition was not too good. It can be said with safety that he has never been seen really fighting in this Colony, though it is certain that he will be extended to the full when he meets Ewin. Creighton is strongly fancied in some quarters to beat Ewin, the opinion being based upon his brilliant performance in fighting Joe Hall, the former coloured champion, to a draw.

A. B. Creighton.

Personally, I rather favour Ewin's prospects, though it is fairly certain that the bout will be, in common parlance, a humdinger. Another attractive contest will be between A. B. Nobby Hall and A. B. Sacker, of the Hermes.

SCOTLAND BEAT ENGLAND.

INTERNATIONAL CHARITY CUP SURPRISE.

BREAKAWAY GOALS.

[By "Wanderer."]

Scotland 2 England 1

While giving Scotland all due credit for magnificent defensive work which kept the England attackers at bay for eighty-five minutes of the International Charity Cup semi-final yesterday, they must be adjudged very lucky to win. Valentine opened the scoring within a minute of the start from a breakaway on the right, Scotland spent seventy per cent. of the remainder of the game on the defensive, and after England appeared to have turned defeat into a draw by scoring through Van Tromp, five minutes from the end, Alexander broke through on the right and scored a great goal in the last minute.

The winning goal was decidedly on the lucky side. A hefty well-placed clearance by McGregor left Alexander with a fine opening and he cut in cleverly with Jones at his heels. Jarvis made the fatal mistake of going out to meet the Scottish outside-right and beaten in the race for the ball, received a nasty kick in the face in diving for it.

A Cramped Game.

I am inclined to the view that England defeated themselves by crowding on too much sail in the second half. It seems a rather strange statement, but if they had slackened off occasionally, afforded the Scottish defence more relief than was given by the efforts of the Scottish forwards, and had given themselves a chance of keeping the game open, more scoring chances would have arisen.

As it was, Scotland packed their goal in masterly fashion, McGregor and McKelvie being adepts at this type of game, and England's forwards were always cramped for room.

The half-backs spent long periods within shooting range of the Scottish goal and some of the finest shots in the whole match were put in by Hedley. When Van Tromp did get through it was merely because the Scottish defence had opened out as the result of a raid by Alexander. His shot was a poor one compared with many that had been saved by Rodger previously, but on this occasion the goalkeeper, who played a brilliant game, displaying remarkable anticipation, was unaided by Gardiner.

England Rather Unlucky.

On paper, England's team was good enough to win easily, and if the match was played over again, I fancy the result would be reversed. England had no share of the good luck that was going, though they had the chance. The principal difficulty was the weakness on the left wing. Could was brought in at the last minute for Bewley-Bull and he failed to settle down, indeed spoiling numerous excellent movements by over-keenness.

Incidentally, of course, he often found himself in opposition to McGregor, the finest back on the field. McGregor did not put a foot wrong the whole game, and his clearances were models of accuracy, invariably perfect passes along the wing to Alexander. Even in a tight corner, he kicked with purpose. Gardiner gave him excellent support. McKelvie was the best of the half-backs, a very hard-working line, and Gear and Torrie gave him splendid support.

The Scottish forwards were weak on the whole, principally through poor ball control. They were energetic, however, and caused trouble when they broke away through sheer persistence. England were excellently served in defence, and they did not deserve to lose two goals. The half-backs got a strong grip on the game in the second half and only long punts enabled the opposition to get away.

The Van Tromp and Firth partnership was the strong point of the attack, and Goldman did his best to finish off their work. He played one of his best games for some time, distributing the ball cleverly, and shooting well when

CLUB MEETS THE NAVY TO-MORROW.

The first of the matches in the triangular tournament will be played to-morrow at Happy Valley when the Club meet the Navy.

Taking a line from the Club v Cornwall match, the Navy appear to have a good chance of winning. They are being represented by a very strong side, built round a nucleus of the Cornwall team, of whom no less than nine have been chosen.

The Club, on the other hand, will not have such a strong side as last week. Scott and Riddell are unable to turn out, and Ross is still unfit which necessitates a reshuffling of the outsiders.

The Club's side is as follows: R. J. Grieve; L. Goldman, G. P. Lammert, J. D. H. Hutchison, H. V. Koop; G. A. Plummer, J. L. Bannar; D. A. Milne-Day, A. D. Sutcliffe, W. F. Peera, F. R. Burch, E. R. West, B. P. Massey, J. A. E. Kendrew, B. L. Stock, Referee, Capt. Denkin. Kick-off 4.15 p.m.

R.A. v. S. China "A"—Sookunpoo, 2.30.

Kowloon v. K.O.S.B.—Kowloon, 2.30.

The programme contains two very attractive matches, one at Caroline Hill and the other at Kowloon, the two Chinese teams providing the opposition to the Navy and Kowloon.

Kowloon have the most difficult task, opposing the Athletic, but radical changes have been made in the forward line and it is hoped that these will prove effective.

The Navy should beat South China, the Club should just manage it against the Police, while the Recreio look likely winners against St. Joseph's.

Possible teams include: Kowloon:—Angus, Gillett, Pile, Hedley, Downman, Bled, T. Pile, Miles, McKelvie, Connes and Eastman.

Club:—Rodger, Wallington, Bishop, Gilchrist, Stewart, Watson; Alexander, Jackson, Reid, J. M. Wilson and Trambitsky.

Club Reserves:—Sterling, Sloan; Potouloff; Panchon, Ralton, Hynes, Bell, Dinnen, Jackson, Thompson, Smith.

KOWLOON FORGED NOTE CASE.

CHINESE SENTENCED TO FIVE MONTHS.

Following a conviction in the case of a Chinese who was charged with being in possession of three forged $100 Hongkong and Shanghai Bank notes, Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy, this morning sentenced the defendant to five months' hard labour.

The defendant was arrested in Portland Street on information received and, when searched, the notes were found concealed up the sleeves of a tight fitting singlet. It was discovered that on his person he had a wallet but it contained only a few small coins.

Mr. Cheng Hing-wing, sheriff of the Kowloon Magistracy, was called to give evidence of the notes being forgeries. Witness pointed out certain faults in the printing and general appearance of the notes.

The defendant, not being able to give a satisfactory explanation as to why he had carried the notes secreted up his sleeve, was convicted and, as stated, sentenced to five months' hard labour. His Worship remarked that $300 was a lot of money and if the defendant had not been arrested people would have been defrauded to that amount.

COOL THEFT.

CHINESE STEALS OVER A HUNDRED POLES.

On a charge of larceny of 140 bamboo poles from a building under construction at the junction of Jordan and Canton Roads, a Chinese was sentenced to six weeks' hard labour by Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

It was stated that the defendant under the pretext that he had received instructions from the contractor, took the poles away in a truck. During the course of the day some 600 or 700 poles were stolen from the premises.

HONGKONG C.C. DEFEAT
THE ARMY.

The annual cricket tournament
between the Hongkong Cricket Club, the Army and Navy opened yesterday, when the Club defeated the Army in the first match by 106 runs.

The Club gave an excellent display of good all-round cricket. Their batting was consistent, and one could find little fault with them in the field.
The attack, which was well handled,
proved far too strong for the Army, and only Lieut. Col. Wyatt was able to show any confidence in facing it.
The fielding was keen and accurate,
Bowker in particular, working hard.
His picking up was clean, but he revealed a weakness in throwing-in and appeared to miss two distinct chances of throwing down the wicket through inaccuracy.

Moor enjoyed a good match by scoring 73 in splendid style. He hit well on both sides of the wicket and was rarely in trouble. Ten fours were the chief contributions to his total, which came as a result of skilful strokes to leg and through the covers. He and Mitchell added no less than 99 for the second wicket, and during that period, practically all the stings in the Army attack was drawn, and the later bat-men found run-getting quite a pleasant and easy task.

Mitchell helped himself to 32, and
"Tam" Pearce hit with little restraint for his 21. Owen Hughes followed with a couple of dozens, all made in his best style, and although after this the Army attack enjoyed the satisfaction of getting on top for the first time, the Club score reached the respectable total of 214.

The visitors introduced quite a variety into their attack, but apart from Fry, it was pretty straightforward stuff, the ball invariably coming off the wicket at the uniform height and pace, and scarcely ever really troubled the batsmen. Credit must be given to Fry, however, for his fine work. He alone made the batsmen watch the ball right through, and his figures speak for themselves. He only sent down 9 overs, six of which were maidens, and he conceded only 46 runs in obtaining 5 wickets. Col.
Wyatt proved rather expensive, and the Club made merry with his deliveries, whilst Capt. Reynolds, Leach, Lieut. Christian and Waring rarely caused the batsmen serious worry.

The Army's Innings.

It was a different story to tell when the Army confronted Bowker, Reid and Beck. The former was especially effective on the hard and fast wicket, and the visitors experienced great difficulty in timing his off-swinging deliveries which gathered a lot of pace off the ground. He always had the batsmen fully on the defensive and he well deserved his analysis of 6 wickets for 32 runs. A. C. Beck also sent down a very useful maiden paced ball, with just a suspicion of break, and against these two the Army had anything but an enjoyable afternoon.

Allowing for the keenness of the attack, however, it cannot be said that the visitors revealed much enterprise at the wicket. There was little attempt at definite strokes, and even Col. Wyatt made the majority of his runs behind the stumps. He certainly stepped out to the slow deliveries of the Rev. Quick, but his timing was faulty. None the less, he played a gallant innings, and saved the Army from almost complete rout. He defended cleverly and watched the ball
all the way to the bat.
The Army made a disappointing start, the first wicket falling with only ten on the board, and they could never recover from this. Capt. Reynolds succeeded in gathering a dozen,
but his was rather an uncomfortable innings, and one was not surprised when Owen Hughes brought it to a finish with an easy catch in the slips.
Lieut. Musson and Lieut. Maxwell both failed, Bowker proving their masters. After the dismissal of Col.
Wyatt, it was merely a case of how long it would take Hongkong to finish off the innings. Actually it came to a close a few minutes after five, the Army being all out for 108 and the Club winning by 106 runs.

K.C.C. v NAVY.

Kowloon Team in Good

Form Yesterday.

The whole-day game between the Kowloon Cricket Club and the Royal Navy, played on the former's ground yesterday, ended in a victory for the home team by six wickets in the first innings.

Batting first, the Navy could do nothing against the bowling of Goodwin, who captured seven wickets for 24 runs. Squadron Leader Bounphrey was top scorer with 32 and Lt.
Stephenson was the only other man to reach double figures.

By consistent batting, the K.C.C. replied with 227, E. F. Fincher retiring with 54 to his credit. G. A. V.
Hall hit out to good effect for 49,
whilst E. C. Fincher contributed 43.
Commandr. Baker was the most successful run-der for the Navy, his three wickets costing 59 runs.

Squadron Leader Bounphrey took three wickets for 74, and Lt. Bennett two for 41.

The Navy fared better in their second venture, their score when stumps were drawn being 142 for the loss of eight wickets. Lt. Stepheson's 59 (retired) was a bright, if somewhat lucky, knock while Comdr.
Baker also obtained his 42 in quick time. Scores:

GARRISON NEWS.

CHRISTMAS SEASON IN BARRACKS.

The advent of Christmas was the signal for a greatly increased amount of activity in Messes and other military organisations. Barrack-rooms, dining-halls and Messes have been gaily decorated with bunting and streamers for some days. In addition, Christmas Drums have been got up, the prizes ranging from the proverbial turkey, through bottles of spirits to such small gifts as a humble bag of nuts or a tin of cigarettes. A brave show was made by one Mess, which had all the prizes of the draw ranged on the billiard table, comprising bottles of spirits by the dozen, lucky tickets entitling the holder to purchase goods to a certain value at an approved business-house, together with numbers of bags of sweets and oranges—useful for providing the children with their share of the good things.

On Christmas Day, the spirit of Christmas reigned supreme, and the hapless wight who had the misfortune to be on duty. Even they had their share of the fun, although they were not able to indulge in all the entertainment. For the Christmas dinners of the Junior Ranks, the Warrant Officers and Senior Non-Commissioned Officers carried out the usual Army custom of acting as waiters, and the tables, growing under the weight of decorations, plates of fruit and nuts, cigarettes and cigars presented a fine spectacle. Before the dinners were actually commenced, the men were visited by their Commanding and other Officers, who toasted the men and were duly cheered in return.

In Hospital.

Nor were the soldiers who were unfortunate enough to be in Hospital on Wednesday forgotten. Contributions from Units for the purchase of Christmas delicacies had been made, and the staff of cooks at the Military Hospital were kept busy and put in an enormous amount of work in preparation of the fare. Wards were decorated with streamers and the like, and other contributions by the Nursing Sisters added to the cheerfulness of the scene and the comfort of the patients. Some patients there are, of course, who are not sufficiently convalescent to take part in the festivities, but special extras were provided for them.

Servants' Messes had their Christmas dinner after serving the Junior Ranks, or had a dinner late in the evening. These were usually followed by an impromptu smoking-concert, to which all the talent of the Unit was collected.

Navy Football.

In a China Fleet football league match at Happy Valley yesterday afternoon, Somme beat Cornflower by the odd goal in three. Teams:

Cornflower: Best, Little, New, Baum, Childs, Pawsen, Sepple, Adams, Baker, Williams, Bennett.

Somme: Tubbs, Bennett, Stoner, Dumford, Ryeroff, Cummings, Dusky, Ball, Ford, Thornton, Bortyram.

Somme attacked in the first minutes, but put the ball past the post, and from the goal-keeper, Adams got away and opened the scoring for Cornflower.

The Cornflower goal underwent an anxious time for some minutes, Somme keeping up attacks with plenty of vigour. The goal that aquired came at last when Ball shot from fully forty yards, New deflecting into his own goal out of the reach of Best. Cornflower took up the attack again, and some useful work by the left wing got them near the Somme goal, and two unsuccessful corners were forced.

The Somme goal had a very narrow escape just after the interval, when Tubbs only partially cleared a shot from Baker, but Stoner came back to relieve.

End-to-end play was the order for most of the second half, until Ford got away and passed to Bortyram, who found no real work in putting his side ahead, with Best out of position at the other end of the goal. Somme continued their attacks without adding to their score until the final whistle.

FRANCE ON NAVAL ISSUES.

NOT A STRIKINGLY HELPFUL ATTITUDE.

TONNAGE LIMITATION.

Paris, Dec. 26.

The French Government has addressed a Memorandum to the British Government on the subject of naval disarmament.

The French contention is that the reduction of armaments should be based on Clause Eight of the Covenant of the League of Nations which it declares offers the only basis for suitable preparation of an agreement, not involving a priori mathematical formula, acceptable to all Governments not to be represented at the London Conference.

The Memorandum indicates a preference for limitation by tonnage, but declares the readiness of the French Government to adhere to a compromise method, regulating the distribution of tonnage among the different classes of ships.

It is made clear once again that the interdependence of air, land and sea armaments is the fundamental principle of French policy.

The French Government hopes that it will not be obliged to deal with questions relating to the fixing of land and air armaments, but it must point out that tonnage adequate to its naval requirements are closely related to the general level of armaments.

The note says that France is not averse to solutions enabling Powers so desirous of entering into definite mutual agreements, not awaiting the conclusion of all armaments.
It also emphasizes the importance that France should have warship tonnage adequate to her national needs from a geographical and colonial viewpoint.

Finally, France suggests that the Mediterranean Powers should have a mutual guarantee and non-aggression agreement, including the Powers not represented at the London Conference, especially Spain.—Reuter.

GETS OFF LIGHTLY.

POLICE SUSPICIOUS OF A
"RUNNER."

Prosecuting a Chinese named Chan Wong-sui, who was described as a boarding-house runner, for boarding the s.s. Van Heutz on Christmas Day without the permission of the Master or the Officer on duty, Sgt. Galvin informed Mr.
T. W. H. Hoesgood at the Marine Court this morning that attention was drawn to the defendant by the fact that he was accused by a passenger of having "picked" the latter's pockets.

On being searched, the defendant was found to have $2.50 in his possession, the passenger claiming this sum to have been stolen from his pocket. In addition to this, a draft for $110 was found on the defendant. This draft, continued Sgt.
Galvin, was believed to have also been stolen.

The Police officer then produced a letter from the skipper of the Van Heutz corroborating the story
Sgt. Galvin had just told the Court.
Defendant was fined $30 with the alternative of one month's hard labour.

A PECULIAR STORY.

MEN HIRED TO ASSAULT
COMPATRIOT.

A peculiar story was related to
Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning, when Inspector Stimson prosecuted two Chinese on charges of assaulting a compatriot, necessitating his removal to hospital for treatment of a nasty injury to his head, stated to have been caused by a hammer.

Inspector Stimson informed his Worship that two men made a report at the Kowloon Police Station of the alleged death of the brother of one of them. It was stated that the deceased man had been assaulted and succumbed to his injuries in hospital.

The men were told to obtain a doctor's certificate of the man's death but instead, had apparently hired the two defendants (the complainant in the present case).
The prosecution asked for a short remand, pending the complainant's discharge from hospital.
The case was adjourned till next Thursday.

Among the latest naval appointments is that of Commander H.
Hickling to H. M. S. Kent (Dec.
23rd), and Acting Mate E. W. Lowson to H. M. S. Cumberland.

MISSING AIRMAN EXPLORER.

THREE CANADIAN PLANES
TO JOIN SEARCH.

CAMERA EXPERIMENT.

New York, Dec. 26.

Three powerful cabin-dressed and a number of experienced Canadian pilots have arrived at Seward, Alabama, in order to participate in the search for Lieutenant Eielson, the Norwegian airman-explorer.

The planes will be reassembled at once and will fly either to Nome,
the starting point of Lieut. Eielson's last flight, or to Teller. They will begin their search methodically, arrangements having been made whereby all the ground will be covered.

A special feature of the Canadian arrangements is that each of the planes will carry special cameras to record details of the areas flown over. It is considered highly probable that these cameras might be unnoticed by the human eye.

Lieut. Eielson was wrecked somewhere between Nome, Alaska, and a furship which is frozen in off the Siberian coast. He had made several journeys carrying supplies and crashed about mid-way between the two points a few days ago, since when nothing has been heard of him. The Soviet Government is also arranging to co-operate in the search.—Reuter's American Service.

HYGIENE LESSON
IN COURT.

DUSTY RAKERS BEFORE MAGISTRATE.

Two individuals in tattered clothing and of frowzy appearance were brought before Mr. Grantham at the Central Police Court this morning, the case against them being that they raked up dustbins and thereby caused a nuisance.

Giving an elementary lesson in hygiene, the Magistrate carefully explained to the culprits that they had better leave dustbins alone, as, disturbing the contents, germs might be released which would not only be a danger to themselves, but also to the community at large.

Having promised "not to do it again", the men were discharged.

THE I'M ALONE CASE
REVIVED.

OWNED BY AMERICAN SYNDICATE?

New York, Dec. 26.

A federal grand jury to-day returned an indictment against Daniel Hogan charging him with being the head of a rum-running syndicate which "owned the rum-runner I'm Alone."

This was the first time such ownership had been revealed. The I'm Alone figured in a sensational engagement some months ago, when it was pursued and fired upon by a U. S. Government cutter. It had been understood that the I'm Alone was of Canadian ownership as it had Canadian registry.

Hogan will be tried in New Orleans, as the I'm Alone affair took place in the Gulf of Mexico not far from New Orleans.

The annual dance given by the President of the Club will be held at the Craigengower Cricket Club on New Year's Eve.

SHIP'S TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

what was happening. One male passenger was told of the position and warned to hold his peace. He did so and preparations were made in case of the worst happening.

The Wireless Fails.

Then the wireless failed. A short circuit had been caused through the fashing of the aerial against other objects.

The chief officer, Mr. Bray-brook, heroically went up the rigging and got to the mast where he made the necessary adjustments with the gale blowing at its height.

A message was sent to Chefoo to the effect that the ship was safely riding the seas, that repairs to the shaft had been carried out, and that the ship would make for port. She was then somewhere near Port Arthur.

Further alarm was caused when it was observed that the union joint of the rudder was on its last threads. The emergency gear had been smashed by pounding seas and the danger was therefore acute.
The Chief Officer ordered members of the crew to go down to make the necessary adjustment. They refused owing to the peril of the attempt and the Chief Officer went himself.

When the storm was at its worst a gramophone was taken into the saloon and a dance was carried on while officers told white lies to all.

They got to Chefoo after 132 hours at sea—and moored in the harbour at 7 a.m. on Tuesday, the 17th.

The ship left for Shanghai on the 18th after an extensive examination had been made berthing at the French Bund.

The officers and engineers are as follows: Capt. Byrne is an Australian; the chief officer, Mr.
Braybrook is an Englishman; the second officer, Mr. Worsley, was born in the Isle of Man—a Manxman; the chief engineer, Mr. T. E.
Pringle, is Scottish the second engineer, Mr. W. J. G. Jones, is from Wales; and the 3rd engineer, Mr.
R. L. Sweet, comes from New Zealand. A British Empire aggregation.

On being assured of employment,
a young Chinese, who was yesterday remanded by Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court, this morning, discharged with a caution. The defendant, it will be remembered, showed reluctance at being sent to the Police Boys' Club following his arrest for hawking newspapers without a licence.
